Both the lion and the lamb are reflected in the nature of My Son. In Him these images of enemies in the animal kingdom in a fallen world shall be reconciled in My Kingdom.

To be sure, lions may prey upon lambs. Lambs require protection by a brave shepherd. The honor of the shepherd is maintained by retrieving from a lion's mouth an ear or legs of a sheep that has been killed by that lion. In no place in my Word are a lion and a lamb found lying together peacefully.

But in Christ both the lion and the lamb are seen and reconciled. He is the Lion who roars and the Lamb who before his accusers is silent. He is the Lion who reigns and the Lamb who rests. He is the one who stands strong and who gently leads.

He is royalty; He is innocence. He rules; He is vulnerable. He is the Lion of the tribe of Judah; He is the Lamb of God whom I have sacrificed for your sins.

For eternity He reigns as a Lamb beside My throne. As a Lamb, He speaks as a sword, executes judgment, and unleashes wrath. As a Lamb, He reigns and gives the power to reign—to overcome Satan by the power of His shed blood.

As a Lamb, He receives worship and guides His people whom He has redeemed. He establishes peace and rest forever.

Cheryl Weaver: TTWM Prayer Leadership Team member

Words that describe me – Adventuresome – I love variety.
Communicator – I have been told that I have the gift of words.
Compassionate.

Favorite Song – “Favorite One” by Misty Edwards

Favorite Bible verse – Philippians 1:6 All of my confidence is in Him for the work that He has been doing in my life.

I would love to have lunch with – John the disciple. He received healing in his identity and saw himself as the beloved or favorite one. I would love to learn from him.

Pet – My Yorkshire Terrier named Mr. Belvedere died in October. He was my prayer partner over the last decade, a time when God had me in a place of full-time intercession and study. When I was on my knees, my dog was right there beside me. I miss him.

Heart to Heart Ministries Int’l – In 2001 Keith Yoder invited me to lead an intercession team for a transformation gathering. During that event God dropped the name Heart to Heart Ministries Int’l into my mind. Over the last years I have explored this vision, which is a prophetic communication of the heart of God. After communing with Him, I share what I see and hear to the world.

God’s faithfulness – When I was six years old, I shared with my mother that I wanted to be saved. She said I was too young and made me wait until I was nine. I started strong, but for many years my relationship with God fluctuated between hot and cold. At times I was close to God and others I was bitter or angry and drifted away. In 1996 God spoke very clearly to me, “I am about to spew you out of my mouth.” It was a fresh revelation of the fear of the Lord. I fell on my knees and prayed, “Change me. If you can’t keep me from this on and off relationship, then take me home.” God has kept me passionate for Him. He has delivered me from 20-year addictions, baptized me with His Spirit, and opened His Word to me.

Other Interests – I love to travel. My father was always the explorer. Like him, I love to go, get lost, and see what I can discover.
